Note for the Reader.

The fifteenth volume of the Registers of the Diocese of Hereford now completed, contains the Registers of Diddlebury and Munslow. Both are of great interest, because of the importance of these parishes in the past and the numerous families of position that occur in these Registers. Munslow also is one of six remaining Shropshire Registers which began in pre-Reformation times, and its original "paper book" is preserved, as well as the parchment copy made from it in 1600.

In the present volume, as has been the rule adopted by the Council throughout, the Registers are not printed in full, but in an abbreviated form which can readily be understood, though every salient fact has been recorded, and all occurrences, remarkable events, etc., have been given in full.

The following abbreviations have been adopted :—

afft.	— affidavit	lic.	— licence.
b.	— bachelor (or born).	mar.	— married.
bap.	— baptized.	nup.	— nupti.
bur.	— buried.	p. (or par.)	— parish.
chr.	— christened.	pr.	— pauper.
ch. w.	— churchwardens.	s.	— son.
cler.	— clericus.	sep.	— sepultus.
clk.	— clerk.	sp.	— spinster.
co.	— county.	ux.	— uxor.
d.	— daughter.	vid.	— vidua.
dioc.	— diocese.	w.	— wife.
esq.	— esquire.	wid.	— widow.
f.	— filius (or filia).	widr.	— widower.
gen. (or gent).	— gentleman.	wit. (or W.)	— witnesses.
inft.	— infant.

A capital letter after "of" or "p." denotes the parish whose particular Register is dealt with; thus "of D." = "of Diddlebury," and "p. M." = "parish of Munslow."

For the transcription of these Registers, the Society is indebted to Mr. G. Wm. S. Sparrow, Mr. T. R. Horton, and the Rev. W. G. D. Fletcher, and for collating to Mr. Sparrow and Mr. Fletcher.

The word "pauper" affixed to many names does not necessarily imply poverty, but that the duty imposed by Act of Parliament on the registration of baptisms, marriages, and burials was not paid.

It might be well to point out that these printed volumes are not legal evidence of any baptism, marriage, or burial; but for entering up a pedigree in the College of Arms, or for any legal purpose, certified extracts must be obtained from the incumbents. The statutory cost of each certified entry is 3s. 7d.

Diddlebury.

Diddlebury Registers.

Diddlebury is a parish on the river Corve, situated eight miles north of Ludlow. It is in the Diocese of Hereford, the Archdeaconry and Rural Deanery of Ludlow, and the Hundred of Munslow. The parish has an area of 8,690 acres, and it contains the hamlets of Diddlebury, Westhope, Middlehope, Corfton, Sparchford, Ermestry Park, Great and Little Sutton, Lawton, Peaton, Bromcroft and Poston. The population in 1901 was 709.

At the time of the Domesday Survey, Diddlebury formed part of the Manor of Corfham, which was held of the King by Earl Roger. The Earl granted the Church of Diddlebury to Shrewsbury Abbey. In the year 1147, a general settlement took place as to property in dispute between Shrewsbury Abbey and the Norman Abbey of Seez, and the Church of Diddlebury was granted to Seez. About 100 years later, the Abbot of Seez gave Diddlebury Church to the Dean and Chapter of the Diocese of Hereford, to whom the patronage of the living still belongs.

The Register consists of the following volumes :—

Vol. I., 1583 to 1598. A book of 35 paper pages bound in cardboard, containing baptisms, marriages, and burials. It is probable that there was formerly an earlier part of this volume.

Vol. II. contains burials of 1678—9, and a list of parochial elections and Church collections from 1686 to 1750. This volume consists of 20 paper pages in a parchment cover. A copy of this book was made in 1751, and in it the record of parochial elections is continued to the year 1879.

Vol. III, 1683 to 1733, consists of 80 parchment pages, not bound. It contains baptisms, marriages, and burials.

Vol. IV., 1734 to 1748, has 48 pages ; Vol. V., 1749 to 1786, has 60 pages. These two volumes are of parchment, bound in parchment-covered boards. Each contains baptisms, marriages and burials.

Vol. VI., 1754 to 1808. This is a marriage register, of 140 paper pages, bound in leather.

Vol. VII., 1808 to 1812. A marriage register of 16 parchment pages, bound in leather.

Vol. VIII, 1787 to 1812. This is a large, leather-bound volume of parchment pages. Baptisms are entered at one end of the book and burials at the other, on printed forms.

With the exception of the third volume, which has suffered much damage, the whole of the Register is in a good state of preservation. The binding of the sixth volume is dilapidated. The entries throughout appear to have been made carefully. It will, however, be noticed that the Register of the years 1599 to 1683 is no longer in existence, and that there are several gaps in the earlier part of the third volume. Through the courtesy of the Diocesan Registrar, the Bishop's transcripts at Hereford have been placed at the service of the Society ; these transcripts are printed here from their commencement in 1661 down to 1683, and gaps have been filled, and differences between the Register and the transcripts noted in subsequent years to the end of 1753.

The principal families mentioned in the Register are those of Baldwyn and Cornewall, but the following names also are marked by some such addition as 'Mr.,' 'Gent.', or 'Esq.':—Lutley, More, Langley, Syars, Walcot, Pulley, Stedman, Jervis, Fleming, Turnor, Jordan, Lucas, Browne, Harries, Powell, Jones, Haynes, Davies, Legass, Hammonds, Sheppard, Acton, Wilkes and Palmer.

Richard Baldwyn, buried at Diddlebury in 1585, was tenth in descent from John Baldwyn, of Diddlebury, and Anne his wife. A great-grandson of this Richard was Thomas Baldwyn, of Diddlebury, Recorder of Shrewsbury, admitted a Burgess in 1660. From the second son of Richard Baldwyn were descended the Baldwyns of Elsich, Stokesay, Bockleton and Aqualate, among whom may be mentioned Sir Samuel Baldwyn, born in 1618, and his brother Sir Timothy, born in 1620.

Sir Samuel held Stokesay Castle for the King during the Civil War. He was M.P. for Ludlow, 1658, and afterwards became King's Sergeant (Attorney-General). He died in 1683, and was buried in the Temple Church. His great grandson, Charles Baldwyn, M.P. for Shropshire, married Catherine Childe, of Kinlet, whose son William assumed the name of Childe.

Sir Timothy Baldwyn, D.C.L., was elected a Fellow of All Souls College, Oxford, in 1639. He was an enthusiastic Royalist, and was for a short time deprived by the Parliament of his fellowship. At the Restoration he was made principal of Hart Hall, now Hertford College, but after holding office for two years he became Chancellor of the Dioceses of Hereford and Worcester. He was knighted in 1670.

The Baldwins of Munslow, and through them the Baldwins of Shrewsbury, were descended from a cousin of the Richard Baldwin of Diddlebury mentioned above.

Richard Baldwyn, a descendant of the Recorder of Shrewsbury, sold the Diddlebury estate in 1752 to Captain Frederick Cornewall, a relative of the Cornewalls, Barons of Burford. Captain Cornewall had two sons; Frederick Walker, M.P. for Ludlow, and Folliott Herbert Walker, successively Bishop of Bristol, Hereford, and Worcester. The Bishop was buried at Diddlebury in 1831.

The burials of three centenarians are recorded in the Register, one of whom reached the age of 106.

The Church of St. Peter is of Saxon foundation. The North Wall of the nave and part of the tower are Saxon, the former containing a Saxon window. The chancel dates from the Norman period. An early-English arcade separates the aisle from the nave. Mr. D.H.S. Cranage, in "The Churches of Shropshire," says that Diddlebury Church "has examples of almost every style of English architecture." There are several memorial tablets of members of the families of Baldwin, Cornwall, Fleming, Powell and others. The following record events which took place in those periods of which the Register has been lost:—

Mary, wife of John Bawdewin, of Middlehope, gent., died Nov., 1659.

Henry Fleming, of Westhope, Esq., died 1650, aged 52.

Thomas, eldest son of Richard Bawdewin, of Diddlebury, and Margaret his wife, daughter of Lawrence Ludlowe of Morehouse, married Gertrude, daughter of Robert Corbet of Stanwardine, by whom he had three sons, Edward, John, and Richard, and two daughters, Dorothy and Susanne, and died 1614, aged 68.

There were formerly six Chapels in Diddlebury, viz.:—Corfham, Corfton, St. George in Sutton, Westhope, the Chapel of Greete in Peston, and the Chapel of Mercham, or Marston. A seventh Chapel, at Siefton, was probably within the parish of Diddlebury.

Mention of Corfham Chapel occurs as early as 1299, and the chaplains included John Davyes, "Perpetual Chaplain of the Free Chapel within the Castle of Corfham" till 1388, Thomas Chykenhulle, died 1422, and Roger —, presented 29th Dec., 1422, by John Talbot, Lord of Corfham.

Corfton Chapel was dedicated to St. Bartholomew. By a deed of 1260, William de Furches, Lord of the Manor of Corfton, surrendered the patronage of the chapel to the Dean and Chapter of Hereford, but he reserved to himself and his heirs "the due service of the said Chapel of Corfton by a fit and resident Chaplain." In 1635, William Keyman, "commissionary and official" of the Bishop of Hereford, issued a mandate which states that the Chapel of Corfton is in a ruinous state, and requires Peter Mease, Richard Awnsham (Rector of Hopesay), and George Littleton (Rector of Munslow), to discover who is liable for the repair of the Chapel. The three commissioners, after holding an enquiry, replied that the Vicar of Diddlebury ought to repair the Chancel, and that the inhabitants of Corfton were liable for the repair of the Chapel. Roger —, was Chaplain of Corfton in 1252. Wakes were kept here the Sunday after Lammas Day. The Chapel of Corfton is frequently mentioned in the marriage register of the latter half of the 18th century. Parts of the walls are still visible in some farm buildings, but they do not seem to be of any great antiquity, though it is probable that they are upon the site of the original Chapel of Corfton, a mediæval, carved stone having been discovered here recently.

Alexander, the Chaplain of Sutton, was enfeoffed in a virgate by Robert de Sutton in 1225. He died in 1247. The Hundred Roll of 1255 mentions Johanna and Lucia, daughters of Alexander, the Chaplain of Sutton. William, Chaplain of Sutton, was appointed as warranty to Johanna and Lucia in 1256. On Nov. 16th, 1272, Thomas de Cantilupe issued a mandate to induct John de Hodenet to the custody of the Church of Sutton, reserving the institution for the Bishop; but John de Hodenet was actually instituted on Feb. 19th, 1279, by the Prior and Convent of Wenlock. Wakes were kept here on Midsummer Day.

Westhope Chapel is mentioned in the Williams MSS. as existing in 1255, when John Fitzalan, Lord of Clun and Westhope, was Patron of the Chapel. In 1277, Hugo, Rector of Westhope, was granted licence for one year to study. In 1327, the Chapel of Westhope, in the Deanery of Wenlock, was taxed six marks, and three years later the Chapel was valued at thirteen pence, having goods worth eleven shillings. In Certificates of Colleges, 1461, the Chapel was valued at eleven pence. The Chapel was spoliated by Act of Parliament of 1548. The Certificate of Sir George Blount, Knt., Reynolde Corbett, Richard Forsett, and Richard Cupper, Commissioners, Nov. 4th, 1549, states:—"The Chappell of Westhope within the sayd parishe of Dudlebury, valued at XId., payments nil, Remaining XId., no Incumbent, To the pore nil, goods IIs." In the Particulars of Grants of 1549, the following reference occurs:—"The Chappell of Westhope. Rent of one baulk of arable land in tenure of Robert Busse 1d. Rent of one acre of pasture land called Chappell Meadow in tenure of William Lewis, 1111d. Rent of the aforesaid Chappell with parcel adjacent called Chappell Yarde in the tenure of William Wall, vjd. At 23 years purchase 22/-. There are no other lands or tenements to the said Chappell, belonging as yt is presented; there be no wodes growing upon any of the sayd premises, dated the last day of February, 1549. The King's Majesty discharges the purchasers of all incumbrances except leases and the covenants of the same. The tenure is socage. The purchaser to have the issues from Michaelmas last. The Purchaser to be bounde for the Woddes. The leade bells and advowsons excepted." In 1549, John Cowper and Richard Trevor request to purchase the rent of the Free Chapel of Westhope, and a grant from the King, dated at Lieghes, 10th April, 1549, was made "to John Cupper and Richard Trevor, in consideration of £2,050—13—9, for Church property including the Chapel of Westhope, with a parcel of land adjoining called Chappell Yard, and lands and tenements in several holdings to hold them in socage." In Particulars of Grants, 1552, we find, "The rent of the Chappel of Westhope, with parcel adjacent called Chappell Yarde, in the tenure of William Wall, value 6d. There is no other lands of the sayd Chappell to yt;" and, in the same year, "John Cowper and Richard Trevor purchased the rent of the Free Chappell of Westhope with lands pertaining to it." The Chapel is mentioned in Certificates of Colleges, dated 1558 and 1603. A deed of 1650 mentions "The Chappell of Westhope and the Chappell Meadow," and in a deed of 1707 there is reference to "all the Chappell or building called a Chappell in Westhope with the appurtenances. The Manor, Dovehouse and Chappell." The Chapel had evidently fallen into disrepair once more, and in her will, dated 14th January, 1728, Mrs. Elizabeth Fleming states: "If my son Richard Fleming rebuilds the Chappell of Westhope, and fits it up for the service of God within four years, then I give to endow it the £100 that is in Martin's hands, with the interest at the four years end after my decease; but if the Lord of the Manor of Westhope should be remiss in having it supplied with 12 sermons in the year, then the profits of it shall goe to the parish of Acton Scott, for that purpose and no other. But if my son Richard Fleming fail to rebuild it within that time, then the £100 with the interest to be equally divided between my two sons Gilbert and Hector Fleming. To the Schools of the parish of Diddlebury £10—if the children of the Lordship of Westhope shall be taught free."

The Chapel of Westhope was restored in 1728—29, and in 1745 Edward Fleming was patron of the Chapel. A paper written about a century later states: "The Chapel of Westhope is private property; it stands in an orchard. The proprietor gives £5 a year to the Vicar of Diddlebury to give his or her tenants 12 evening services in the year. It is kept clean by the tenants in turn, who have also the care of the key." Frederick, Baron von Zandt (died 1841) gave a new pulpit. The late Colonel Swinnerton Dyer restored the Chapel in 1891, rebuilding the walls from four feet above the ground level. The old foundations reach a depth of eleven feet below the ground. Much of the woodwork was too far decayed to be used again, but the roof is a copy of the old one. The building contains a Saxon font, which was discovered in 1908. Among the many Chapels in Diddlebury, that of Westhope is the only one now in use. The present patron is Mr. Leonard Swinnerton-Dyer.

The Chapel of Greet in Poston is enumerated among the possessions of Johane, daughter of Sir William Burley of Bromcroft, who died in 1505. This Chapel is probably identical with that of Greete, near Tenbury. Richard Kene, who died in 1250, gave half a virgate in Possetorne in pure alms to the Greet Chapel, of which Philip de Thongland was incumbent. The reader is referred to the Preface of Greete Register for further information regarding the Chapel.

The tithes of the Chapel of Mershton, or Marston, were the subject of prolonged disputes between the Dean and Chapter of Hereford and other claimants. The following order made by Edward I. is taken from the Williams MSS.: "Edward, by the Grace of God King of England. The Dean and Chapter of Hereford have pointed out to us that the Church of Dedelbur has been canonically assigned to them, and although the greater tithe from certain lands within the bounds of the Church of Dedelbur belong to them in their own name and as Rectors of the same—1 messuage and 5 acres of land which Alexander de Mershton held while he lived—1 messuage and half a virgate of land which Alexander the Clerk held,—1 messuage and half a virgate which William Wrinch held—1 messuage and half a virgate of land which Walter de Yongeland held—1 messuage and one and a half virgate of land which Hugo le Holyman held—1 messuage and one and a half virgate of land which William de Treweshipe held within the towne of Dedlebur. Richard de Beck, Parson of the Chapel of Mershton, robbed it of two parts of the tithes. These have been restored to the Dean and Chapter, but Robert de Thene now holds the Chapel of Mershton on his own presentation and advowson. The Dean and Chapter claim two parts of the advowson. Nothing is to be done in an ecclesiastical Court till the case is heard in the King's Court. Dated 8 Dec. 9 of our reign." In the following year Sir Robert de Beck brought the matter to the notice of the King again, and at "Karlisl," on the 8th July, Edward I. once more forbade the ecclesiastical Court to proceed in the matter, asserting that "the decision as to the advowsons of Chapels belongs to the Crown and to our dignity." In December, 1334, Richard de Bek, Rector of the Free Chapel of Merschton, the son of Robert de Bek, Knight, unsuccessfully disputed the right of the Dean and Chapter of Hereford to the tithes of Mershton. His successor, Robert de Tene appealed in 1335, but was non-suited because he could not prove that he had been canonically instituted. An inquisition post mortem of 1505, of Johane, widow of Sir Thomas Littleton, Knt., and co-heir of Sir William Burley of Bromcroft, Knt., shows that the said Johane held the Manor and Chapel of Merston. Edward, son of Edward Littleton of Shrewsbury, was Rector of the Chapel of Merston in 1689. No trace of this Chapel now remains.

The parish Church of Diddlebury has four bells:—

1. All prayse and glory be to God for ever. 1665.
2. Soli Deo Gloria pax hominibus. William Stedman, Cornelius Benions. 1665.
3. Edward Baxter, Thomas Bluck, Wardens. 1676.
4. John Bawdewin, of Middlehope, gent., Edward Pulley, of Peedle [Peaton ?], gent., c.w. 1670.

An Inventory of Church Goods made 15th May, 1553, shows that there were then at Dydylbere "iii bellys, on chalys of selver wt. the paten therto belonging, now yn the p'yche and Stepull." There have been many gifts and bequests to the Church. By his will dated 1535, Richard Lewys of Westhope gave "to the High Altar for tithes forgotten 3/4. To our Lady Service in the parish Church of Diddlebury 6/8 and a suit of vestments." In June, 1831, Bishop Cornewall gave a set of Communion plate, in place of the old plate which had been stolen in March of the same year.

The account here given of the Chapels in Diddlebury is based entirely upon information supplied by Mrs. E. H. Martin of Westhope, who has also given the following list of the Incumbents of Diddlebury.

Munslow.

Munslow Registers.

Munslow is a parish and village, situate on the road from Craven Arms to Much Wenlock, in the hundred of Munslow, diocese of Hereford, archdeaconry of Ludlow, and rural deanery of Church Stretton. It lies about ten miles north from Ludlow on the river Corve. It comprises the hamlets of Aston (or Aston Munslow), Bach Mill, Broadstone, Millichope, Poston, Thonglands, and part of Hungerford. The area is about 3,100 acres, and the population in 1901 was 477. In 1801 it was 610, and in 1841 had increased to 770.

At the Domesday Survey, the manor of Estune (which comprised Aston with its member Munslow) was held of Earl Roger de Montgomery by Rainald the Sheriff, and was a manor of 8½ hides. Presently Munslow became the more important place, and was fixed upon, in the reign of Henry I., as the caput of the new Hundred of Munslow, and Richard Banastre occurs as the lord of Munslow and Aston Munslow. His son and successor, Thurstan Banastre, died leaving two daughters and coheirs, Margery the wife of Richard fitz Roger, and Matilda wife ot William de Hastings. Margery inherited his Leicestershire property, whilst Munslow and Aston fell to Matilda de Hastings. The manor continued in the family of de Hastings, afterwards Lord Hastings of Bergavenny and Earl of Pembroke, for a considerable period. In 1255 it was held under Henry de Hastings by William de Venables. In 1284 Alice wife of Nicholas de Seymour and Adam de Herkwalle held the manor of John de Hastings. In 1316 Robert de Beek was lord of Munslow and Aston. Early in the 15th century the manor and rectory passed from Sir William Beauchamp, knight, Lord Abergavenny, to Sir John Boerley (or Burley) of Bromcroft. His son William Burley was lord in 1416. In 1453—4 a fine of the manor of Munslow was levied between William Boerley and Margaret his wife, complainants, and Thomas Acton, deforciant. In 1471, Margaret relict of William Burley held the manor. Sir John Burley, Knight, died leaving two daughters and coheirs,—Elizabeth wife of John Trussell, and Joan, wife of Sir Thomas Littleton, K.B., author of the well-known book on Tenures. The advowson passed to the elder daughter, and in 1506 was vested in Elizabeth Trussell, then a minor, the daughter and heiress of Sir Edward Trussell, and afterwards wife of John de Vere, 15th Earl of Oxford, K.G. His son, John, 16th Earl, succeeded, and died in 1562. The manor must have passed to the younger daughter Joan, wife of Sir Thomas Littleton, as the Inquisition taken after her death (which happened 22 March, 1505, aged 80 years), states that she held the manors of Mounselowe, Thongland, &c., and lands in Aston, &c. Her son and heir was Sir William Littleton, knighted in 1487, and then aged 63. Her third son was Thomas Littleton, of Spetchley, whose son John Littleton, parson of Munslow, by his will, dated 12 August, 1560, devised th · manor and advowson of Munslow to his eldest son Thomas, and lands in Thonglands to his second son Edward. Thomas Littleton was of Stoke St. Milburgh, and was father of the first baronet. The manor passed to the third baronet, Sir Thomas Littleton, who died without issue on 1 January, 1709-10. Hardwicke states that the manor passed to one Walker, a serjeant-at-law of Yorkshire, from whom they descended to his son Charles Walker of Ashford Carbonel, who conveyed them by way of exchange to the Rev. Robert Norgrave Pemberton, rector of Church Stretton. He died in 1848, leaving the manor to his cousin Charles Orlando Childe, whose son Charles Baldwyn Childe-Pemberton sold it to Captain Henry John Beckwith, the present lord of the manor.

Amongst early tenants of the manor occur the names of Thomas Walshe, in 1339, and Sir John Ipstones in 1395. Sir William Lutley and his descendants for several generations lived at Munslow Hall, which, according to Hardwicke, was burnt down about the reign of Henry VIII.

ASTON MUNSLOW lies one mile south of Munslow, and contains about 30 houses. The old "Hundred House" is probably the place where the courts of the Hundred of Munslow anciently sat. The Hertwalls were tenants of Aston under the Hastings for a considerable period. At the Subsidy of 1327, Aston was included under Munslow; seven persons were assessed to it and paid 14s., at least one of them John de Wyggeleye was of Aston. At Aston resided the Baldwyns, who entered their pedigree at the Visitation of Shropshire in 1623. The Stedmans were also an old family at Aston. The Aston Hall estate belonged to the Harewells, and came to Sir John Smith, alias Carington, in the reign of Henry VIII., on his marriage with Agnes, daughter of John Harewell, and coheir of her brother Thomas Harewell. It continued in his descendants for a considerable period. In 1715 Francis Smith and Elizabeth Smith, both "recusants," were living here. Francis Smith was buried in March 1720–1. The last of the Smiths, Constantia, daughter of Francis Smith, inherited Aston, and married John Wright of Kelvedon, in Essex, and brought Aston to the Wright family. John Francis Wright was the principal landowner in 1850, and the Aston Hall estate continued in his family until lately, when it was sold to Mr. P. G. Holder. There are monuments to the Smiths in the vestry of Munslow Church. At the White House in Aston are the remains of a dovecote.

BROADSTONE was at Domesday included in the manor of Stanway, and part of the vill was given by Warin the Sheriff to Shrewsbury Abbey. Odo de Berneles gave other land here to the Abbey, before 1136. Six tenants of Bradestan were assessed to the Subsidy of 1327, and paid 9s.; among them William de Bek paid 2s. 6d., and the Lady de la Bour' [Boerley] 2s. Broadstone afterwards became part of Munslow parish. There was anciently a chapel here, annexed to Munslow Church, but no architectural fragments or documents relating to it remain. The present chapel is a small oblong building, with a bell-gable at the west end. The font was given in 1843, and the bell, by Mears, is dated 1844.

MILLICHOPE at Domesday was held by Helgot of Earl Roger de Montgomery. Its Saxon tenant was Gamel, a freeman. Earl Roger gave Millichope to the monks of Wenlock, in exchange for Eardington. In the 12th century one Stephen, clerk (or rector) of Munslow, claimed Upper and Lower Millichope to belong parochially to Munslow, and the matter was heard before the viceroy of Henry I. in full court at Castle Holgate. The result was that Lower Millichope is in Munslow parish, whilst Upper Millichope and Hungerford are in the parish of Eaton under Haywood. In 1255 Peter de Lacy held Lower Millichope under the Prior of Wenlock. In 1293 it was granted to Philip Burnell. At the Subsidy of 1327 thirteen persons were assessed, and paid 39s. 0½d. From an early date the family of More owned Lower Millichope, and built a fine black and white timbered house, which was taken down about 1843. Katherine More, the last of the family, died in 1792, and left the Millichope estate to her maternal relative Robert Pemberton, who was succeeded by his eldest son Thomas Pemberton. At his death it came to his nephew, the Rev. Robert Norgrave Pemberton, who built the present house, and died in 1848, leaving Millichope to his cousin Charles Orlando Childe, who assumed the name of Pemberton. His son Charles Baldwyn Childe-Pemberton sold Millichope Park in 1896 to Captain Henry John Beckwith, the present owner. The old house at Upper Millichope, which was the lodge of the hereditary foresters of the Long Forest, is in Eaton under Haywood parish.[1]

1 See the Shropshire Archæological Society's Transactions, 3rd Series, VII., 125–133, for a full account of Millichope.

THONGLANDS was at Domesday in Tugford parish, and was a hide held by Rainer under Rainald the Sheriff. Rainer's descendants continued tenants here, and took the name of de Thongland. In the 14th century it was held by the Bradeleyes under the Fitz Alans. Thonglands in the 16th and 17th centuries belonged to the Lacons, a younger branch of the family of Lacon of Willey; and Edward Lacon of Thonglands entered his pedigree at the Visitation of 1623. It afterwards came to the Pembertons, and now belongs to Captain Henry John Beckwith.

There was anciently a church here, subject perhaps to Munslow, but it was suppressed before the Reformation, as it does not occur in the Valor Ecclesiasticus of 1534. The Bishop's Registers record the names of nine Incumbents between 1280 and 1401. Sir Roger de Bradeleye was the patron in 1280 and 1313, and the Burnells from 1348 to 1401. Thonglands like Broadstone ultimately became part of Munslow parish. There is a good moated, half-timbered house still standing at Thonglands. A fragment of a mediæval tombstone alone marks the site of the church.

At Domesday the parish church was situated at Aston Munslow, but in the 12th century it must have occupied its present site, as part of the existing church is of Norman date. The present church, which is dedicated to St. Michael, consists of chancel, nave, north aisle, which is separated from the nave by three wide arches, wooden south porth, and western tower with pinnacles and four bells. The tower is the oldest part of the church, the lower part being late Norman. The chancel dates from the 13th century, if not earlier, and contains a narrow deeply splayed window in the south wall. The south wall of the nave was apparently rebuilt in the early Decorated period; and in the 15th century the north aisle was added, and three earlier Decorated windows inserted in the north wall. The porch was erected in the 16th century. The church contains ten fine old 15th or 16th century pews, with fret and other ornaments. Some of the stained glass in the church dates from the 14th century, one window having the arms of Beysin, and a good deal of it was inserted in the 16th century. The east window in the north aisle has the Littleton arms and the Vere arms with many quarterings, and an inscription to the memory of "Richard Schepard and Joane his wyff," whilst another window has the inscription :—"Of yr charytye pray for the soul and state of Johne Lloydde which glasing was done at hys cost." He was the last rector before the Reformation, and in the chancel is a monument to him with recumbent figure. There are also monuments to Thomas More of Millichope, 1767, William Churchman of Holloway, 1602, Richard Baldwin of Munslow, 1689, and several to the family of Powell. The font is octagonal, and of Perpendicular construction. There is a very fine 14th century oak chest. The communion plate includes a flagon dated 1689.[1] The Harleian MS. 6128 notes that there were anciently in this church the arms of Burley, Littleton impaling Burley, Westcote impaling Burley, and Munslowe.

Of the bells, the third is pre-Reformation, circa 1450, and has the inscription "Virginis egregie vocor campana Marie"; the second bell is dated 1622; the fourth is by W. Clibury, 1623; and the treble by Robert Oldfield, 1632. The oak bell-frame bears the inscription "1638 Ro: I S W. R P C." The small or sanctus bell is modern, and dated 1822.

The Church Goods return for 1553 is as follows :—"Mounslow, 18th May, 7 Edward VI., John Lyttleton. John Steedman and John Trow, churchwardens. One chalys of sylver with the pattent ther[to belonging]. iij bellys." At the Religious Census of the Province of Canterbury taken in 1676, there were in Munslow 400 Conformists, 4 Papists, and no Nonconformists,—inhabitants above the age of 16. The Papists were probably the Smiths of Aston, who also had an estate at Upper Millichope. Laurence Courtney, "a Popish Recusant and servant to Mr. Smith of Aston," was buried in 1709; John Edwards in 1703, Anne Edwards in 1716, and John Wheeler in 1734,—all "Popish Recusants." William Rows, "a Papist," of Wooton in Warwickshire was buried in 1717.

The Shropshire Chantries Certificates of 1548 mention lands lying in Thongland in the parish of Munslow assigned for a yearly obit, of the annual value of 12d. There were also lands in the parish given for a stipendiary priest, which were of the yearly rent of 40s. or thereabouts.

The patronage of the rectory belonged to the Hastings family until 1410. From that year until 1471, it was vested in the family of Boerley or Burley of Bromcroft. In 1476, Richard Welleweyan presented, and thirty years later the Trussells were patrons. In 1528 John Littleton presented pro hac vice. In 1554 John Vere, 16th Earl of Oxford, presented. From 1575 to 1727 the Littletons were patrons and presented. In 1749, Thomas Powys of Lilford was patron, and on 30th April, 1772, he sold the advowson to Thomas Powell of Bridgnorth, since which time the Powells have been patrons of the rectory.

The Rectory was valued in Pope Nicholas's Taxation of 1291 at £11 6s. 8d., and the Vicar's portion as under £4. In the Valor of 1534–5, it was worth £21 15s. 2d. net.

The following list of RECTORS OF MUNSLOW is compiled from Eyton's Antiquities, Blakeway's MSS. Parochial Clergy, the Hereford Episcopal Registers, and the Libri Institutionum:—

Circa 1115. Stephen, Rector of Munslow.

1392, May 17. Sir Richard de Arderne, chaplain; resigned 1401.
1401, Nov. 4. Henry Warde.

The Parish Register Abstract of 1831 merely contains this brief notice of the Parish Registers:—"Munslow R., Bap., Bur., Marr., 1559—1812." The Munslow Registers are particularly interesting because the original paper book commencing in 1538 is preserved, as well as the parchment copy of it which was made in the year 1600, in pursuance of the Injunctions of Convocation in 1597, and a comparison of the entries in these two books presents many features of interest.

The first volume extends from 1538 to 1595, and consists of 41 leaves of paper, 12 inches by 4 inches, in a parchment cover which is part of an old lectionary containing I Maccabees iv, and some red and blue initial letters. On page 2 of the flyleaf are some Latin texts taken from Romans xiii and xv, and Job iv, but not the exact words of the Vulgate. The Register begins on page 3, and there are various entries written by David Jenks.

The principal families named in this paper book are those of More, Lytylton, Stedman, Paramore, Lacon, and Baldwyn. Edward Littleton, afterwards Lord Littleton, Lord Chief Justice of the Common Pleas, and Lord Keeper of the Great Seal, was baptized at Munslow on 15th March, 1589–90. Christopher Littleton, M.A., of Christ Church, Oxford, was buried here 16th August, 1578. This old paper book was found at Montgomery about twenty years ago, and was sent by the vicar of Montgomery to the present rector.

Volume II. extends from 1559 to 1632, and is a parchment book of 41 leaves, 12½ inches by 5 inches, without any cover. From 29th July, 1559, it is a copy (made in 1600) of the entries in the old paper book; but there are many variations in spelling, and some difference in the Christian names, and several entries are altogether omitted. Moreover the entries from 1538 to 1559 are not copied at all. From 1559 to 1629 the baptisms, burials, and marriages are entered separately; after 1629 they are mixed. This volume contains baptisms from 1559 to 1629, marriages from 1559 to 1626, and burials from 1559 to 1632.

Volume III., which extends from 1637 to 1702, is a paper book of 38 leaves, 14 inches by 5¾ inches, in a parchment cover. It is generally well written, but the writing is very minute, and difficult to decipher in places. From 1683 the entries are written on the left side only, the affidavits as to burial in woollen being on the right hand page. These notes of the affidavits give the date, the name of the person making the affidavit, and the clergyman or magistrate before whom it was made. It contains the burial of several Parliament troopers in 1645.

Volume IV. extends from 1703 to 1743, and contains 40 parchment leaves, 15½ inches by 6½ inches, in a parchment cover. It is written on the right hand pages only, the notices of affidavits of burial in woollen being entered on the left hand pages. It is generally well written and legible. It contains the names of the Churchwardens, and there are several entries of the burials of "Popish Recusants."

Volume V. extends from 1744 to 1767, and contains 17 parchment leaves, 15 inches by 6 inches, in a parchment cover. It is well written throughout, the first six leaves being written in an engrossing hand. Until 1747, affidavits of burial in woollen are on the left page, opposite the burial entry. After 1747 the entries are written on both pages. The clergyman and churchwardens sign the Register each year. In 1763 several deaths from small-pox are recorded, and marked with a cross.

1 I have called attention to these in a paper on "Some Shropshire Parish Registers," printed in The Antiquary for January, 1903. Only seven Registers in the County go back to the year 1538.

Volume VI. contains marriages from 1754 to 1812, and contains 186 entries, not on the usual printed forms, but neatly written out. There is a printed title page, and a specimen entry on the fly-leaf. It is a paper book, 15 inches by 10 inches, in a parchment cover. It is noticeable that the bride usually signs in her new surname, and not in her maiden name.

Volume VII. contains baptisms and burials from 1768 to 1812. It is a book of 24 parchment leaves, 13 inches by 9½ inches, in a parchment cover. The entries for each year are entered on a separate page. The baptisms and burials are entered separately, except from 1771 to 1774, and each page is signed by the clergyman, and until 1781 by the churchwardens also. This volume is well written and in good condition.

Amongst the principal families that occur in the later volumes, are those of Baldwyn, More, Lacon, Stedman, and Smith.

The first volume is fuller and much more reliable than the later parchment copy (1559—1595). The baptisms of Maria Wever on 11th May, 1565, Marget Jorden on 9th April, 1587, and Mychaell Vernols on 26th April, 1587, are altogether omitted in the parchment copy. The father's name is often left out in the copy; thus, in 1579 "Richard, son of Thomas Malpas" is written "Richard Malpas," in 1582 "Fraunces daughter of Jhon Luscot" becomes "Frauncis Luscott," and in 1585 "Edward, son of Edward Baiton" becomes "Charles Bayton." The long Latin entry of the baptism of Thomas son of Alexander Allen and Rose Vaughan, on 16th May, 1568, is very much abbreviated in the copy, and all reference to their residence is omitted. Surnames are often altered. Bochchards becomes Butcher, Lutwich becomes Lutchwich, Phewterell becomes Fewtrell, Bauden becomes Bauldwyn, and Reinols becomes Reynoldes or Vernoldes. In 1564 in the paper book one Adam Jenckes is baptized, but in the parchment copy he is buried. Evidently the parchment copy was not checked after transcription with the original paper book.

Edward Littleton, Lord Chief Justice of the Common Pleas, and Lord Keeper of the Great Seal, was born at Munslow, traditionally in the present school-house, and was baptized on 15th March, 1589–90. His father was Sir Edward Littleton, of Henley. He became Solicitor-General, and was Knighted at Whitehall 6th June, 1635. On 18th February, 1640–1, he was created Baron Littleton, of Mounslow. In the early part of the Civil Wars he followed Charles I. to York, with the great seal. He married first, Anne, daughter of John Lyttleton, of Frankley, M.P. for Worcestershire, and secondly, Lady Calveley, daughter of Sir W. Jones, by whom he had issue an only child Anne, who married her second cousin, Sir Thomas Littleton, 2nd Baronet, of Stoke St. Milborough. He died 27th August, 1645, and was buried at Christ Church, Oxford, where is a monument to his memory erected by his daughter in 1683.

It only remains to add that the paper book was transcribed by the Rev. W. G. D. Fletcher, and all the other volumes by Mr. T. R. Horton. The whole were collated with the original Registers, and seen through the press, by the Rev. W. G. D. Fletcher. They are now printed with the leave of the Rev. George Bather Powell, the present patron and rector of Munslow.
